We are told that the 17 year olds are unfortunately due in this section this year—but so fast they will know of it as soon as they arrive and can then take steps to combat them.

Lexington will have a special election today to vote on bonding the township for $120,000 to macadamize the roads. If the proposition carries the state will furnish a like amount towards the project.

J. C. Mabray and thirteen associates were found guilty and sentenced at Council Bluffs, Iowa, Saturday. The men made millions of dollars out of the fake foot races at Webb City, and other forms of betting at various points.

This is cleaning up time. Most of our people are hard at it, but for the benefit of the others we say get busy and get your yards in good shape. They will then not only look better, but be easier to keep nice the year around.

We are informed that there was no intention to inject politics into the school board question, so a Republican was named for the place made vacant by J. W. Taylor's resignation. As the matter now stands one of the petitions calls for W. C. Gordon and Frank Miles and the other for Jacob VanDyke and G. E. C. Sharp.

The many experts on wheat all seem to agree that the wheat in the river bottom around Saline is so badly frozen that it had better be replanted or some other crop substituted. On the uplands some say its badly frozen, while many report a good stand. As a whole the wheat crop is no doubt badly damaged and a good price is assured for that remaining.

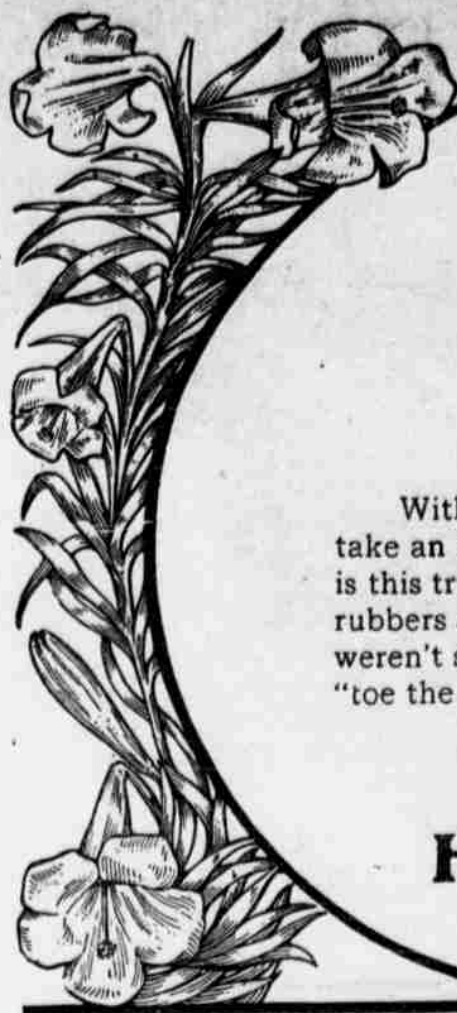

P. H. Houlahan, general manager of the Alton Clover Leaf lines, retired on his 55th birthday anniversary on March 13th. Mr. Houlahan was a very plain, hardworking man. Many of our people will remember him in connection with the big flood of last year when he personally directed the work near Gilliam of fighting the water. He is to be succeeded by W. G. Bied, who will be general manager of all the Hawley roads, with headquarters at Bloomington, Ill.

Persons at whose houses the mail is delivered once or more a day may answer the bell as quickly as they can; nevertheless, the aggregate time which the letter-carrier loses by having to wait for the door to be opened is considerable. The Post-Office Department figures it as averaging thirty seconds for each call, and as representing a loss to the government of four hundred thousand dollars a year. For this reason the Post-Office appropriation bill provides that after June 30, 1911, carriers shall not deliver mail at any house not provided with a suitable mail-box accessible from the outside.—Youth's Comp. No. 1.

The sad accident of the loss of an arm by one of our bright young boys again calls attention to the fact that the boys are not being kept at home at night. No matter how much we may sympathize with his widowed mother, the fact remains that instead of a support he becomes a burden to her. It is nothing unusual to see a hundred or more boys around the square as late as ten o'clock and everyone must admit that not one of these boys has a fair chance to become a good citizen. It's one of the impossibilities to make a good man out of a boy who associates with a crowd of other boys after night.

Give your boy good company—"two is company, three's a crowd"—at daytime and keep him home at night is a safe rule.

The Republican county central committee met in Marshall Monday and endorsed Milton Allison to fill the vacancy caused by the death of County Clerk, W. G. Durrett.

The Walk-Over Shoe

Dainty and Fresh Creations for Easter

in Men's and Women's Footwear

With the opening of Spring season nearly all men and women take an increased interest in their wearing apparel. Particularly is this true of shoes, for during a good part of the winter season, rubbers and overshoes have made it possible to wear shoes that weren't strictly proper. But now it's different; your shoes must "toe the mark" set by Dame Fashion; that means

A Proclamation

Whereas by the Act of Congress approved July 2, 1909, the Thirtieth Decennial Census of the United States is to be taken, beginning on the fifteenth day of April, nineteen hundred and ten; and

Whereas a correct enumeration of the population every ten years is required by the Constitution of the United States for the purpose of determining the representation of the several States in the House of Representatives; and

Whereas it is of the utmost importance to the interests of all the people of the United States that this census should be a complete and accurate report of the population and resources of the country; Now, therefore, I, William Howard Taft, President of the United States of America, do hereby declare and make known that, under the act aforesaid, it is the duty of every person to answer all questions on the census schedules applying to him and the family to which he belongs, and to the farm occupied by him or his family, and that any adult refusing to do so is subject to penalty.

The sole purpose of the census is to secure general statistical information regarding the population and resources of the country, and replies are required from individuals only in order to permit the compilation of such general statistics. The census has nothing to do with taxation, with army or navy service, with the compulsion of school attendance, with the regulation of immigration, or with the enforcement of any national, state, or local law or ordinance, nor can any person be harmed in any way by furnishing the information required. There need be no fear that any disclosure will be made regarding any individual person or his affairs. For the due protection of the rights and interests of the persons furnishing information every employee of the Census Bureau is prohibited, under heavy penalty, from disclosing any information which may thus come to his knowledge.

I therefore earnestly urge upon all persons to answer promptly, completely, and accurately all inquiries addressed to them by the enumerators or other employees of the Census Bureau, and thereby to contribute their share toward making this great and necessary public undertaking a success.

Farmers to Blame

Washington, March 18.—Charles Agar of Chicago, president of the Western Provision and Packing Company, was a witness to-day before the Senate Committee which is investigating prices of foods and other commodities. He declared that the farmers were responsible for and reaping the harvest from present high prices.

"Is there a trust among the packers to control prices?" Senator Gallinger asked.

The witness raised his right hand and solemnly declared, "so help me God, no!"

George R. McCarty, publisher of the American Provisioner, and secretary of the American Meat Packers' Association, another witness, also strenuously denied that there was a combine among the packers.

No Fireman's Strike

Chicago March 21.—All questions in dispute between the twenty-seven thousand firemen on Western railroads and railroad managers will be amicably settled, according to an arrangement reached today through the aid of the United States commissioner of labor, C. E. Neill. It was decided by W. S. Carter, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and engineers, and his committee, representing the men, and the general managers' committee, representing the forty-seven railroads involved to settle the controversy in the following manner:

The question of seniority, or the promotion of old time firemen over new men, and the question of representation by the union of firemen who have been promoted to be en-ginner, are to be compromised before any arbitration is attempted.

The demand of the men for an increase in wages of 12-15 per cent is then to be submitted to arbitration under the Erdman Act.

In previous negotiations the railroads had agreed to arbitrate the wage question, but had declined to arbitrate the other two points on the ground that they were points of discipline and authority only.

Roosevelt is Coming

Former President Roosevelt who is exceedingly popular in Missouri is now the idol of great people and vast crowds in Africa and will tour Europe before sailing for home early in June. While he did not expect to be lionized as a great American he finds himself besieged on every hand by rulers and eminent people who want the privilege of honoring him. He will not cross our continent on the way to New York but will return over the Atlantic, land at New York, accept a grand welcome there and make a trip to Denver and the west later. When he crosses Missouri he will be greeted most cordially.

Boat Line Funds Nearly Complete

The allotted time for the raising of the $1,000,000 capital stock of the Kansas City Missouri River Navigation Company, is nearing the end, and recognizing this the officials of the company, with its band of co-workers, are planning to close the campaign with a whirlwind finish in which the balance will be raised.

With this end in view, the aid of all the past and present directors of the Commercial Club has been enlisted. These men will meet at headquarters in the Midland building this morning and immediately will start work among the large realty owners. It is expected that by hard work the remainder of the $1,000,000 will be raised by Saturday.

Yesterday was marked by a lull in the number of subscriptions. The amount of stock sold during the day enriched the coffers of the company only $14,191, bringing the total fund to $835,926.

Notable among the subscriptions received yesterday was one of $1000 from the Strang electric line, being the third contribution from an electric company within the past seven days.—Kansas City Journal.

Womanly Wisdom

Always keep your flour cool, dry and securely covered.

You can generally save money by avoiding the dead-sure things. Love what is good, support the feeble, fly from the wicked but hate no one.

To distribute spice evenly thru a cake or pudding, carefully mix it with part of the granulated sugar to be used.

It is not generally known that candles as well as soap, will last much longer by being exposed to the air for some time to harden before using.

Stiffly-starching muslin bags in which to put woollens in the spring will keep them unharmed by moths if they are free from them when put in and if the bags are tightly closed.

Spread down some newspapers on which to kneel when you are planting the garden or flower beds. They may save you a cold or rheumatism in your knees, besides keeping your dress clean.

Last year we had excellent success in keeping hams in good condition through the warm weather. Before the flies had a chance to deposit their eggs in them, we dusted some cayenne pepper into the hock end, wrapped the whole ham closely in brown paper, then in coarse muslin sewed to fit closely. Lastly we gave them a coat of thick whitewash and hung them where it was cool, dry and dark, and they did not even melt on the outside.—Farm Journal.

Press Clippings

Sunday School Teacher: Don't you want to be an angel Tommy?

Thomas: Oh, I don't know; I ain't in no hurry; the baseball season is comin' on.

Mayville Republican Pilot: From the tragedies that have recently taken place in the homes of millionaires, we draw the inference that the rich don't control all the peace and happiness in the world.

An East Tennessee girl is credited with the following reply to a question as to whether she had been to the fair: "I didn't want. I didn't want to go; and, if I had wanted to go, I couldn't have gotten to gwine."

"Mamma did you love to flirt when you were young?" asked a daughter who had just been chided by her mother. "I'm afraid I did dear," was the reply. "And were you ever punished for it mamma?" persisted the daughter. "Cruelly dear," was the reply. "I married your father."

A Missouri tax collector though afflicted with stuttering is an old gentleman of uniformly good temper which so far as one knows no combination of circumstances can ruffle. One morning he was asked into the "settin room" by the lady of the house and was immediately beset by a barking dog. "Don't mind Tip" said the old lady. He won't bite you—he's only fooling. "He w-w-won't, w-w-won't he?" said the gentleman triumphantly. "H-h-h-e's b-b-bbbiting me n-n-now."

A Quincy man made a bet that he could invent a question to which fifty men would give the same answer. He won the bet. The question was: "Have you heard that Smith has committed suicide?" In each case the answer was: "What Smith?"

Mound City News: Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Russ, wealthy farmers of near Ravenwood, Mo., have acquired a considerable fame on account of 1078 for homeless children. Having no children of their own, they have at various times been adding to their family, the last addition being twin girls abies. All the children have been given a good home and every advantage possible. There is no real philanthropy in such acts as these than in the million dollar gifts of Rockefeller.

Albany Ledger: Now will the young ladies be careful? A report from St. Louis states that two girls of that city have contracted leprosy from the hair imported from Asia. Very likely the hair was taken from some dead Chinaman or other oriental, yet self respecting American women are eager to obtain additional hair for personal adornment (7) and have no idea where it comes from. When they once become in-culcated with the "style" via they will risk health and sacrifice comforts to be Fashion's followers.
